Don't Judge by Bumps
A Real Airplane
Beating the Pawnbrokers
Marvelous Caterpillar

By Arthur Brisbane

UNLESS GOVERNOR HARDMAN interferes, Georgia will send a woman to the electric chair. The Governor feels that the woman is guilty, basing his opinion partly on his study of phrenology.

The woman may be guilty of murder. But should Georgia be guilty of killing a woman?

That is the important question. Phrenology and its bumps are often deceptive.

Germany is building secretly an airplane such as Henry Ford described and planned to build more than a year ago.

The German plane, 150 feet wide, carries 12 high-power engines and has sleeping quarters for 33 people.

The 12 motors are of British construction, "Jupiter motors," and this first real "giant plane," called "Dornier 10," will run between Germany and South America, stopping at the Azores, attaining a speed of 150 miles an hour, and carrying fuel for a 250-mile flight. A real flying machine.

High finance does not lack courage, putting the interest rate on money to 9 per cent yesterday.

The legal limit, even for pawnbrokers is 12 per cent, and they have to take care of the old overcoat and keep the motto out of it after making the loan.

These unscrupulous profits are due primarily to action taken by the Federal Reserve. Bankers follow suit to make all they can for stockholders.

And Wall Street banks charge on regular business loans, having nothing to do with stock speculation, a rate that is plain usury, and against the law.

All this ought to internalize President Coolidge. Let Federal Reserve Board bring responsibility for a condition that makes this country ridiculous in the eyes of European countries that manage finances honestly.

When Governor Smith gets back from the corn belt, he ought to investigate the Wall Street usury.

He is in no way responsible for it and has no control of Federal Reserve or National banks. But usury violates the law of New York State, and as Governor, might like to know just how and why his Republican friends are transforming banks into pawn shops.

Interesting news for farmers and all that eat comes from the Santa Fe Railroad via G. W. Reed.

A caterpillar tractor on the California packing corporation ranch at San Leandro, Cal., worked for 400 hours, without stopping, beating the world's non-stop tractor record by 168 hours.

In less than 20 days the big tractor, not even stopped as drivers were changed, ploughed 1500 acres of land, travelling back and forth 2000 miles.

No weary animals exhausted, no tired farmer walking over heavy ground. Skilled mechanics, working eight hours a day, three to a shift of 24 hours, the work done by machine.

There you have the future of farming, and a "farm problem" solution that you will find in politicians' promises.

The Observator Romano, semi-official organ of the Vatican, commenting on the anniversary of the entrance of Italian troops into Rome, says:

"The Roman question can be solved only by restoration of the Pope's temporal power."

By many it has been said that the Vatican has never enjoyed as great prestige and influence as since the loss of temporal power. But this the Observator Romano calls nonsense, since "no one knows what that prestige and influence might have been had the temporal power been retained."

Not satisfied with calling Trotsky to far away Tartarus, the Bolshevik government is said, by yesterday's London Daily Mail, to have organized new attempts on his life.

To organize a great revolution, throwing out the czar, becoming head of the huge Russian army, and then find yourself an exile, in danger of murder, must discourage communist ardor.

Sharpshooters, evidently not very sharp, tried in vain to shoot Trotsky. Then his house was blockaded, and his family unable to get food. Trotsky, read and philosophized, and found comfort in his recollection of what happened in the French Revolution at Danton, Robespierre, Marat and a host of other leaders.

THOUSANDS SEE LIQUOR RAID ON STATE STREET; THREE ARRESTS MADE

Several thousand persons today saw liquor raiders. Police headquarters clean out a place on lower State st., 40 gallons of various liquors and arresting three men on charge of keeping and exporting liquor for sale.

The raiders found carpenters at work carrying the doors with extra strong "anti-raid" bolts, when they arrived on the scene, according to their report on returning to headquarters.

Those arrested gave their names as Fred E. Walker, Francis J. Smith and John Jones. All were held for arraignment today.

The raiding squad was led by Sgt. Charles Oliver Grant and consisted of Officers Welby, Peck, Shannon and Clark.

A bar was found on the second floor of the place, according to the police, but only one bottle of liquor was located there.

On the third floor, police say, was a storeroom with quart bottles of hooch, cans of alcohol and an assortment of empty bottles, labels and other paraphernalia.

A copper coil carried liquor from this floor down the elevator shaft to the basement where bottles were filled, the raiders said. The coil had not a drop of liquor in it.

While one man was being taken to the other floor, Personal Detective was left to guard the place. A civilian, who was in the store, was asked to get a drink of plain water, with a glass of beer in another glass.

To Shobden's surprise, the customer called down three of these water highlights, following each with a heavy swallow of ginger ale, before he discovered the police.

He was allowed to go without further punishment.

Washington, Sept. 21—A month and a half before the voters decide whether he is to be the next president of the United States, Herbert Hoover is well satisfied with the political outlook for the future.

He is already planning for his trip to Britain and other parts of Europe.

EXPERT SCORES DOLL RADIO BILL AS 'UN SOUND'

Federal Radio Commissioner C. H. Caldwell today branded as "unsound, unscientific and wasteful" the view of the Federal Radio Commission which the nation's radio facilities was recently announced effective November 1.

Speaking before the annual National Business Conference at this son Park, Wednesday, he urged that the measure be changed at the next session of Congress.

"Had the clause been limited to the assignment of new frequencies only, no objection could be raised to its operation on economic grounds," he said.

"But the clause goes further, and proceeds to restrict the use of those wave lengths by zones and states, so that all are reduced to a common level regardless of natural facilities."

"In this way the lower the natural level of the radio facilities, the more desirable to another station, depriving local populations of needed facilities which could be used locally without interference in any respect."

"It is in this respect that I believe the Federal Radio Commission is unsound, unscientific and wasteful, and should be amended at the next session of Congress."

BOSTON LEADS ASK FOR BLOOD OF PARALYSIS VICTIMS IN COLLECTION OF TAXES

Boston has excelled other large cities of its class in the country in the collection of taxes, according to city Tax Collector George H. Johnson, who reports a collection of $8,000 of the last year for 1927 on real estate, personal and poll taxes. Up to September 14, 1928, the collector had garnered $37,261,469.24 of the 1927 warrant which called for $35,522,115.

This compares with collections amounting to 75 per cent. for Mr. Waukesha, 82 for Buffalo, 82 for Worcester, 84 for Springfield, 86 for Pittsburgh and 88 for St. Louis.

An appeal to persons who have recovered from attacks of paralysis to give a little of their blood for serum to help others suffering from the same was made today by State Public Health Commissioner George H. Blagden.

After disclosing that the department's supply is low, Dr. Blagden said that individuals are extremely helpful in preventing the development of the disease. While there is no increase lately in paralysis cases, the number so far this month reported being but 34 as against 243 in the same period a year ago. The health commissioner received last more attention is being paid to cases where the symptoms indicate that the disease is starting.

Those willing to help fight the disease are asked to get in touch with the Harvard Medical Commission at the Harvard Medical department or with the state health department.

AFTER LEADERS IN ALBANY POOL WAR

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 21 (AP)—The Albany pool war, which for several years has played a game of hide-and-seek with Federal and State law enforcement officials, was back in the glare of publicity today when the Albany grand jury's next report on the case was made public.

First presentation of evidence in the Albany grand jury's next report on the case was made public today when the Albany grand jury's next report on the case was made public.

"I am not a suspicious man without proof, but I am going through with this investigation," said the grand jury.

Herbert's statement was leaked after Charles H. Barnes, unlicensed mediator for arrangements in the Massachusetts Republican primary, came to Albany with the expressed intention of aiding in getting "the bottom of the affair" and find out who the men behind it are in the "pool" pool.

Before going into the grand jury room Barnes, who was subpoenaed on his arrival here Wednesday night, had in his possession what he termed "a mass of documentary evidence on the case."

Painter Knocks the "L" Out of Byrd Ship Name

New York, Sept. 21 (AP)—A painter who dropped an "L" has sent Commander Richard E. Byrd's supply ship, Eleanor Bolling, to the Antarctic with a misspelled name.

The ship had been renamed by Commander Byrd in honor of his mother, whose maiden name was Eleanor Bolling Flood. He is expected to give the "L" to the ship's name in the freighter. The error was transmitted over the telephone and the one "L" in "Byrd" was omitted.

The error was not discovered until the ship was about to sail for Hampton Roads, Va., on the first leg of its journey and Commander Byrd did not wish to delay its departure to have the name corrected.

By attorneys for the defense and the government.

WANTED CASES TRANSFERRED.—In connection with the attempt of Asst. U. S. Dist. Atty. Thomas F. Cook, in charge of the federal prosecution, to have the cases of the three transferred to the southern district in New York city, others whose names the government had been seeking to transfer to that district were James Otto, Bill Leonard and Joseph Ant of Albany and Walter J. Kane of Green Island.

TROOPS HUNT STRANGLER IN HONOLULU

Honolulu, Sept. 21 (AP)—Hawaii met the horror of its first war crime today with police, the military and scores of volunteers organized into working units to hunt down the killer and slayer of 121 Japanese. The search for the strangler was on today.

The body of the boy who was killed from a second floor window yesterday on the banks of the Alakali canal near the fashionable Royal Hawaiian Hotel. Physicians said he had been strangled to death.

Complicating search for the slayer today was the threat of rain which had delayed the investigation last night. Hints that a vigilante committee was being formed at one meeting followed hearing of newspapers.

The chamber of commerce reward fund had reached $100,000 to day and a total fund of $200,000 for arrest of the kidnappers was expected before Monday.

The boy's neck bore the imprint of five fingers, many bruises covered his body, and there were cuts on the wrist and ankles. Police Surgeon Robert C. Price, on an autopsy indicated the boy had not up a terrific struggle with the slayer. Physicians believed the boy had been killed Tuesday night, a few hours after he had been kidnapped, and possibly within a few minutes of the time his friend father had handed over $1000 to a man, who promised the safe return of the boy.

Following a report of a telephone call, Mr. Jamison with the man on a crowded downtown street corner, and gave him the money.

The best way to keep good news in memory is to receive them with news—Gala.

COLUMBIA WILL FILM APACHE STORY

By LOUIELLA D. PARSONS.

Copyright, 1928, by Famous Script Co. LOS ANGELES, Sept. 21 — The French people say the Apache story idea of an Apache in a jass cabaret and a plaid shirt. Much credit has been given to the American movies for their presentation of the dance supposed to have originated in the Montmartre of Paris.

Jack Coles, holding down Columbia while his brother, Harry, is making the picture, isn't letting France frighten him with any wisecracks. He has bought a story from Ramon Brown called "The Apache."

You can imagine that it isn't dancing far from the regular idea of the Apache dance when I tell you Margaret Livingston plays the lead. Margaret is one of our best little dancers, no mistake about that. She can do her stuff and steal honors from almost any stage star.

Phil Rosen will direct and some good-looking stars will be selected to play opposite Miss Livingston, a lot who can dance and treat 'em rough.

GEORGE MELFORD is turning author as well as director. He has written a tale called "Love in the Desert," which he is to put on the silver sheet for E. R. O. Otis Borden, who has apparently pleased the powers that be at this studio, for she seems to like there, plays an Arab girl.

The story I suggested to mention, is told in Morocco with Noah Beery as the "Navy." I suppose he is a bad shock. The whole with "it" will be played by Hugh Trevor, now looking as better.

George Melford ought to know plenty about these things for he is the last who directed the original "Apache," the movie that sent Rudolph Valentino's popularity sky high.

THE night club of New York are going to see a lot of Carl Laemmle, Jr., these next few weeks. Carl, accompanied by Dr. Paul Fenn, hopes to find a feminine lead for "Broadway" either in a Broadway musical show or in one of the famed night clubs. Ever since Barbara Stanfield created such a sensation on the stage in "Barbarian" the stock in night clubs has gone up.

Barbara was recruited from one of those glittering palaces and she has proved a sensation. Carl and his director leave in about ten days for Manhattan and if he isn't swarmed with girls who think they can play the part, then I am entirely mistaken in my movie.

ATTENTION all First National is sending out a call for a woman to play Satan's mistress. Hold all. This request was sent to the office. The story is "Seven Postcards to Satan," a novel by A. Merritt, Benjamin Christensen directed. First National admits Olga Baclanova could play the part, but she is under contract to another company. Applications may be made early in the morning for those who'd like to have a whirl at the big drama. It certainly does sound stirring, eh?

FEW people in the world have reached their goal as completely as Hope Hampton. Hope, a few years ago, was playing in motion pictures, but very good ones, either. Now she has been signed to sing Miss in "La Boheme" for the Philadelphia Opera Company. Hope discovered she could sing, so she went to work to master both Italian and French. She since "Miss" in Italian and a little later she will sing "Mignon" in French. Her voice, tested by experts, is said to have grand opera quality. With that voice and her beauty you may look for a sensation.

All this hasn't been done over night, let me say, but to date and this of hard work and study. Personally I think Hope deserves a lot of credit. How few people stick to one thing long enough to make a success.

WHERE they are and what they do continues to be a matter of interest to Hollywood at least. W. Scott Darling has been signed by Paul Bern to write a treatment of "Nine Neighbors" for Pathe. Eddie Quilley's family will have a party. Chuck Reiner will direct. writer, has been summoned by Monty Bell of New York to write dialogue for "The Night Club," a two or three reeler to be made at the Paramount studio.

Join the Limar, whose brother only arrived here Sunday in that ship, left yesterday for Manhattan, write a treatment for "The Letter" which is to be filmed with Jeanne Rausch in the leading role.

I HAD a caller yesterday, a colored boy with rare intelligence and ambition. His name is Sipha Fitch. Now that isn't a joke, it's a real name and he is an actor. He played an important part in "Oliver Twist" and now he has been cast in "Badger," a Fox picture. There can be no doubt Fitch speaks the truth because he was armed with his contract when he came to my office. He is a credit to his race and a young man of whom they can well be proud.

SNAPSHOTS of Hollywood collected at all random: Carol Dempster dancing at the Ambassador, Fater Ruth Miller also among those present at the regular Tuesday night at the Coconut Grove, W. A. Madden stopping to chat with Ruth Hovstad at the Biltmore where she was working.

ALONZO COOK IS 'WELCOMED' INTO G. O. P.

Alonzo B. Cook, state auditor and stormy petrel of the Republican party through his continual victories against party opposition, was officially welcomed into the G. O. P. and given its full sanction today by Chairman Francis Prescott of the Republican State committee.

The official candidate to succeed himself, was contained in a letter sent by Chairman Prescott to Robert M. Washburn, president of the Roosevelt club.

Prescott's letter was in an answer to an open letter by Washburn asking the State G. O. P. head what attitude the Roosevelt Club members should take in the Cook case—whether the club members should support him or throw their support to the Democratic nominee.

JOHN COOLIDGE BODYGUARD IS WITHDRAWN

John Coolidge himself will be without a bodyguard.

Private advice reaching Boston today said that Russell Wood, secret service man who had been with the President's son for two and a half years, had been recalled to Washington.

The President, it was understood, wants his son to make his own way in the world without outside aid or supervision.

The new arrangement was said to be very satisfactory to President and Mrs. Coolidge. They are in Plymouth, N. H. The order to Wood, removing him of his task of guarding the President's son, was issued by the President soon after his entry into New England.

TEST FLIGHTS FOR ROMA TODAY

By JAMES DELANEY

Old Orchard Beach, Me., Sept. 21.—Test flights to determine whether the Roma can take off on a non-stop flight from the United States to Rome, or whether she will have to be taken from here to where certain repairs can be made will be had today.

The purpose of these flights is to see if the engine will start at the same time every time of pressure that it will have on the 22nd mile point over the Atlantic ocean that it did on Island, when it was forced to turn back after five miles.

It was planned to hold these flights yesterday, but a heavy rain kept along on a level level from the East made flying the giant seaplane impossible.

Comdr. Thomas S. Smith is anxious to determine just what is wrong with the engine that he shut down about half an hour after the start of the flight he had planned for months.

The crew gave themselves over to rest and recreation in the first of the day and have since their arrival here.

Members of the crew in a driving rain did go over to the airport to look at the giant ship. They were taken by Pilot Harry Jones, Maine aviator in charge of the boat, to the beach where the plane is located, against any damage from the rain.

Additional gas to refuel the plane was dumped in the original flight in the way from New York to refuel the plane for an longer trip.

Lack of facilities with which to work, he stated would be the reason for this action.

POLICE READY FOR 'PEEPER'

When the tall, dark "Peeping Tom" appears at windows of the City Hospital tonight he will be met by policemen. Nurses who have been annoyed by the man, and children in wards who have been frightened by him, have provided the police with descriptions of him and details of his methods. He is said to have gone so high as the third story and removed screens in efforts to get a clear view into the building, and his face has appeared at several windows.

The Durban is expected to arrive Sunday morning and after fueling at Pinar, immediately through the Panama canal and head for Nassau, the Bahamas.

New York, Sept. 21.—Father Knickerbocker's children, as Health Commissioner Wynne expresses it, do not seem to be overfond of babies.

Since 1910 the marriage rate has increased from 3.70 per 1000 population to 11.13; the birth rate has decreased from 25.95 to 21.59. There are fewer than two babies to each wedding.

BARON IN INDIA ON WAY TO HOP PACIFIC

By BARON GUNTHER VON HUNDELFELD

(Copyright, 1928, by the New York American and Universal Service. Special wire and contract.)

Rashtad, Iraq, Sept. 21.—Flying over most difficult mountain country and deserts between the Tigris and Euphrates, we arrived in Baghdad from Angora. We are on our way to Tula from where we plan to hop across the Pacific coast to the United States.

The best was most impressive as we passed over desert country, and I was glad that I had installed in our plane a special tropic cover for just such an emergency.

We met the young German-Swiss flyer Inhof who, in a small plane, attempted to fly to India but was forced down on account of an over-heated motor that was abandoned only. Inhof was forced down in the desert, rescued by Arabs and brought here by an English military plane.

An anticipated, we had to remove a liner when we stopped off at Angora. Lindor's discomforts hereby got us over the military barriers. We followed a compass course and made the fine speed of 150 kilometers an hour.

Today we start for Bagdad. We are arriving at a real Oriental hotel, dreaming of our coming transatlantic flight, encouraged by the wonderful showing of our Junkers plane here.

I got my first thrill in long distance flying by piloting the Junkers from Sofia to Angora. Lindor made the start and landing.

Now then over I realized that a properly functioning motor is the most essential to a successful transatlantic flight, for as we flew over barren and mountainous landscape between the coast and Angora, which reminded me much of Labrador, we realized that if our motor stopped we had little hope for an emergency landing.

To take land of dried up rivers and thinly populated country there would be little prospect for a rescue.

Goswar, Macedonia, Sept. 21.—Influencing is regarded here as a celestial evil.

During an epidemic men and boys gathered in the market place and fired 100,000 shots with rockets against the heavens till their ammunition gave out.

Mrs. James Cunningham Gray and Her Daughter, Katharine, Are Back in Their Beacon St. Home

FACES TURNED TOWNWARD EXLIVEN BOSTON'S MAYFAIR SOMEWHAT AND give a semblance of life to thoroughfares where many shuttered homes look blankly out. Well in the vanguard of town coming ones are Mrs. James Cunningham Gray and her handsome daughter, Miss Katharine Cunningham Gray, now established in their Beacon st. home after a summer at the Eastern Yacht Club.

Spacious altitudes that he is, Mr. Gray does not, so early in the autumn, entirely divorce himself from yacht club affairs and his dearest hobby, at least while weekends about may be indulged to heart's content as breezes blow freshly. As an Eastern Yacht Club potentate, Mr. Gray finds his summer's leisure very fully occupied.

INTENSELY INTERESTING in the winter stretching before Miss Gray, who concert herself heavily with a career. The local fashionable set has many recruits to the stage, theatrical or concert, but none more bountifully endowed than she, who has a sparkling beauty, a graceful personality, a gift for languages and a few serious mezzo soprano, beautifully trained. Mrs. Miss Gray were in Rome last winter, where the daughter studied voice for many months, and both moved brilliantly through the Eternal City's high social life. A wide family effluve here is watching her progress delightedly, sure that she will scale the heights and achieve an enviable place and fame in her chosen work.

THE MELOWEST, SOFTEST of September suns came out to shine on the Everett Mosses-Anne Wentworth episode and to auger a bright future for the popular couple. The bride was stunning and her gown combined in its every depth the sentiment and beauty brides these many moons have desired; the bridesmaid galaxy was pretty and fresh as the morning in swirling chiffons, and a company of the most high literary afternoons ceremonial. It is a blessing old place, this church of the meeting house type, fashioned in last century's simplicity and so the more conspicuous in this century's elaboration. Garden flowers were banked in its wide window casements and its simple altar had white flower clusters.

THE BRIDE WALKED UP the aisle in a cloud of tulle that billowed and swayed mildly over the warm ivory of her satin gown. The heavy satin, tinted deep by time, is the sort of fabric grandmothers, proudly stored, would stand alone. Its Princess line and round, trained skirt smacked of a generation ago, and quite unchained, save to mild today's bride's slenderness marvellously well. Her bouquet was of valley lilies and her sole ornament was a strand of pearls about her throat. Her attendant maids finished the picture prettily, in ruffs, violet for the honor maid and beige for the other four.

TWO STRAFFORD WENTWORTH daughters, Miss Margaret Wentworth and Miss Constance LeBlond, Wentworth, decorated the scene in tradesman roles and the others of an adorable set to wait two and two were Miss Juliet Fremont, just back from a summer in Europe; Miss Mary Pickering Bush and Miss Sarah Porter. Mrs. Stratford Wentworth, mother to the bride, was in golden tan with wide hat, and Mrs. Everett Morse, the bridegroom's mother, wore a sage green velvet, an ensemble all in the soft coloring. The reception company at the Milton Club spread out through that pleasant place and onto the sunny terrace, to partake of its salads and loaves beneath bright tent umbrellas—in deference to the perfect day provided by a kindly weatherman.

SOME WINSLOW MOUNTS are likely to be in the ribbons at the Springfield horse show, since Miss Miriam Winslow, finished equestrienne that she is, will be in the saddle. Miss Winslow's horses are sleek and shining examples of beautifully groomed equines, and Miss Winslow's habits, formal or informal, are to the last fold and detail exactly what is deemed correct. I do not think that Miss Winslow showed her horses at the recent Exbridge show, but other local mounts did bravely there; covered themselves with glory and helped to make that comparatively small show a most lively affair.

THRILLS APLENTY AND it spills aplenty kept the rally alert. Miss Virginia Conant brought the crowd up with her daring broad jump. She and her Gypsy Jim did a 16 or 17-foot jump, much to her own satisfaction and the gallery's enthusiasm. In fact the younger set was in the saddle, literally and figuratively, at the Exbridge show. Miss Betty and Miss Patricia Bird had their string there, and of course the veteran Nellie Morse carried off a ribbon or so. Young John C. Hopewell in the jumping class demonstrated his clever hand with his timber topper. The Homer Loring stables and a new horse entered and Mrs. Homer Gage showed her Lord Eilmore.

CROMPTON SMITH, AS master of ceremonies, was the bright particular star of the two days, ably aided and abetted by the pretty Mrs. Smith, whose smart costumes caught every eye, and who held court in her ringside box and handed out the trophies to lucky winners. For the entertainment angle there were two luncheon, afternoon affairs, the first with Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Root for hosts, and the second with the Stanley Wirelocks doing the honors. Miss Deborah Root, the Charles Root daughter, rode her favorite mare, Virginia, and hopes, ardently and enthusiastically, some day to be among the blues. Of the younger generation hardly inclined is Miss Root.

Byrd Expedition Takes Brookfield Butter!

Commander Richard E. Byrd knows the value of good food as a builder of strength and morale. His staunch steamships, the City of New York and the Chelsea, bound for the South Pole are carrying many products of Swift & Company.

Brookfield Butter, creamy fresh, is part of the precious cargoes—a sufficient supply for the band of hardy scientists and the crew during their long sojourn in the Antarctic.

Other Swift & Company products that will add pleasure to the meals aboard ship and on the icy wastes are:

Premium Frankfurts Pork Loins
Calf Liver Ox Tails Pigs Feet
"Golden West" Fowl Turkeys

Brookfield Butter is made in selected dairy regions and delivered to all parts of this country by quickest routes possible—fresh from the churn!

Thus the producer is furnished a daily cash market for his butterfat and the Swift nation-wide system of distribution assures consumers everywhere of fine creamy fresh Brookfield Butter as well as other Swift food products.

Oven-crisp!
because it's wax-wrapped

NOW the big two-pound family package of Sunshine Graham Crackers has a new, outer, waxed wrapper. It keeps crispness in! It keeps moisture out! Wait! A nourishing lunch these crisp, golden-brown squares make in the cool depths of a bowl of milk! How delicious, too, with spreads of jam and jelly...anytime!

And this is an important fact about Sunshine

Graham Crackers: They furnish the desired roughage in these days of "soft food" diets. Sunshine Bakers have taken particular care to grind the graham flour to a special, medium fineness so as not to be too coarse for children and those with delicate digestions. Here's a delicious health food for every member of the family!

We proudly offer GOODYEAR TIRES built with SUPERTWIST

Desirous of giving utmost value to our customers, we tire dealers know that a tire that delivers the full paid-for mileage is a splendid business asset, because it establishes customer good-will.

And that's why we are particularly proud to sell Goodyear Tires. We know the inside story of their unusual service and efficiency. SUPERTWIST—the remarkable Goodyear cords of extra stretch, flexibility and stamina.

SUPERTWIST construction rids you of the menace of "tired tires." And you know that a "tired tire" is one whose inner construction becomes prematurely tired and weak under rough going, collapsing before anything like its full mileage has been delivered.

SUPERTWIST cords—strong, rubbery, vibrant, enduring—are the inner muscles of the Goodyear Tires shown on this page. They "flex" instantly to any trying road condition, fly right back into place, hold the shape of the tire, prevent distortion and breaking down, thus adding greatly to comfort and mileage.

Read the invitation at the lower left of this advertisement. Be sure to accept it. Doing so means miles gained and money saved. And, by the way, note the low prices listed for Goodyears. Because you get more, you don't have to pay more.

Any one of us will gladly give you the convincing SUPERTWIST demonstration. Choose the nearest address, come in, and let your own eyes decide what SUPERTWIST means.

MR. BOSTON By Jack Conway

"HELLO, Red."
"Hello, Honeyboy!"
"You fellows will have breakfast at 8 a. m., lunch at 2 p. m. and dinner at 5 p. m. and I want you to be under the sheets by 8 p. m."
This last from Jerry Gardner, the hells stuff from Red Chapman and Honeyboy Finnegan.
"It is now official that Chapman and Finnegan are to be stablemates, members of Dan Carroll's lapping outfit of boxers," said Mr. Boston.
"Of course, Boston Evening American readers were tipped off to this last Monday, but that is to be expected. Somehow or other the American always leads the sport parade. Other follow."
"The new merger will mean that Chapman and Finnegan will never meet in the ring again. These boys engaged in a couple of tough battles with Dan Carroll. Red won the first skirmish, Honeyboy the second."
"I wish Chapman all the success in the world. He is one of the finest fighters in New England, and along with Eddie Sheehan and other cleaning boys helped to legalize the sport in Massachusetts. As a boxer, he has always stood with the leaders."
I've learned that Carroll was agreeable to the arrangement by which C. Apian went under Carroll's management. Carlo didn't have any contact with Chapman, but he was paid a satisfactory amount of money before he signed up with Dan.
"It was much the same situation when Frank Marlow, New York sportsman, took over the management of Johnny Wilson. Marlow killed didn't have any contact with Wilson, but Marlow insisted upon paying him $10,000. Frank then bought Wilson a new high-powered car."

By DICK McSWEENEY
Tomorrow is the real opening date of the schoolboy football season. Fourteen teams will be seen in action at the various schoolboy fields, and by tomorrow evening coaches will be able to judge just how much knowledge has been absorbed by their charges.
The outstanding game of the 14 scheduled is the Cambridge Latin-Salem contest, which should draw a large crowd of spectators to the Watch City.

HARD TO PASS HARVARD'S FRENCH

GILLIGAN IS FIND OF SEASON

Classy Youth Can Run Team, Kick, Pass and Interfere

By TED LYNCH

Just when Arnold Horween had definitely decided on the makeup of his starting Harvard backfield, a sophomore, Thomas Gilligan, has come along and broken up a perfectly good variety quartet.

Horween ordered a scrimmage in order to witness a fair test to see whether the new player was a contender. The purpose was accomplished, but he was much more than a contender. He was a find of the season.

GILLIGAN IS GOOD
Gilligan was great in the first scrimmage of the year. He not only carried the team along, but also was a public player, passing and kicking. He was the only player who was not a member of the team.

As a carrier he is a wonder, especially in the backfield. He has the power to keep his feet under him, and he is a good passer. He is a good kicker, and he is a good blocker.

Gilligan played quarterback on the undefeated freshman team. He was not only a good passer, but also a good blocker. He was a good kicker, and he was a good blocker.

SHOULD MAKE VARIETY
His late showing has helped the coach so much that there are those to find a place for him on the team. In all probability he will replace Wally Haver as the quarterback, and one elevated to the position will be a good job.

Tunney Appraises Plaudits of Crowd

By GENE TUNNEY

Retired Undefeated World Champion

NAPOLEON the Great continually was saying, "What are they saying?" The roar of cannon, the clash of swords, the wounded never hushed his desire to know what I thinking of him.

It is the insatiable desire for applause, the desire for the approval of the crowd, that has driven many a man to the most desperate of crimes.

It is the desire for every man to be recognized and praised, to be the center of attention, to be the hero of the hour. It is this desire that has driven many a man to the most desperate of crimes.

A boxer is human. He covets the friendship and praise of those who believe in him and encourage his every effort, but for a man who enters the ring to be affected by the enthusiasm and applause that greets his rival is an evidence of crass weakness. Many a man has floundered about the ring for several rounds because he believed the crowd was against him.

The test of the real man is right at this point. If he has a sense of value, he knows the crowd can make only a noise. It has no power to use a punch, stop a blow,

Story of Modern Marriages and Husband Hunters

from the Screen Version by Josephine Levett

THE newspapers were brought to Diana on the tray with her coffee the next morning. Bragging against the pillows, all flushed and sleepy-eyed, with the dark curls tumbling, she read about the wedding of the little and young husband hunter, the society reporter, "United Minor Park's most beautiful bride to the town's most romantic and popular young husband hunter."

"Hah!" grinned the reader, and she looked not at all at the proud and very modern young person as she went on down the column, hearing that the little and young husband hunter, "United Minor Park's most beautiful bride to the town's most romantic and popular young husband hunter."

It is a well-known fact that the take-out of no trump bid is one of the most important and difficult to master in the game of auction bridge. THESE ARE A PAIR OF EYES
Beneath the pal'd moon,
Where the breeze whispers, 'Life

And morn' come too soon!
Perfumes are in a loved one's hair
In tang of sea and soil,
And in the orange blossoms made

But there are sweets no man

Though lone years wax and wane,
In breath of wistful violets
All drowned in April rain!

MODERN SCHOOLS SHOW PROGRESS

By CONSTANCE CAMERON

PROBABLY every step toward progress in this world has been won at first, and "pioneered" by people who distrust change of any kind.

The times are changing, our modes of living are changing, our methods of amusing ourselves vary with each year, and of importance to parents as well as children, the public schools are changing.

The freedom accorded to children in the schools of today, the time spent on singing and manual training, is often criticized by parents who feel that the time would be better spent in learning the alphabet and that two and two make four. But let's go back for a few minutes. Spelling, arithmetic, dates of history aren't the only things we need to sit us for adult life. Pencil and paper aren't the only tools in the workshop of the future. The manual training, MUSIC, be given to them in the schools to replace the activities which were once a part of the home routine. These are but few examples of many life occupations which you will call to mind.

And do you feel that the tense restriction of the old schoolroom was more conducive to acquiring

MEDITATIONS OF A WIFE

By HELEN ROWLAND

My daughter, consider the two men! For a husband under a cloud, a thorn in the flesh, and a lie upon the nerves. But when I think of the man who is only a VAGABOND.

Go to. When a woman says, "Alas, how I MISS dear John!" she speaks the truth from the depths of her heart, and every wife knows it.

Lo, she mends the rattle of his key in the latch at night—and the rustle of his newspaper at the breakfast table.

She smooths the rumpled hair of his in the shower-bath—and his wild tangles when his feet slip off upon the soap.

She smooths his morning peck upon the cheek and the laughing fringe of his forehead when he awakes upon his chin.

She smooths the excitement of his smoke and wondering voice. It is on Saturday nights—and she will delight in his listless and aimless rambling as he wanders under the stars.

He smooths the sweet solace of cheerful whistles, when he is pouring and tinkering in the garage—and the sight of his surgical face and greasy hands, when she drags him from under the car to greet her guests.

She smooths his frown at the vision of the burned house at the window next—and his groans at the reading of the monthly bill.

She smooths the tender thrill of putting his evening clothes in such haste, and the precious promise of counting his humpy and cleaning!

that he brought his problems and his worries.

She smooths the joy of running up bills in his name—and the whole some fear of the consequences.

She smooths the daily reminder that his "Mother ran a whole household on less than the cost of a soap and a canister"—and his look of reproach when he discovers the missing button on his pajamas.

She smooths the sweet solace of comforting him in his hours of anxiety and despair—and the history of knowing that it is to HIDE!

Jealousy robbing you of much of the pleasure you might get out of life.

When you hear that friend or acquaintance has met with good fortune, how does it affect you?

Do you compare what he has gained with what you have failed to receive?

And thereby create unhappiness for yourself?

Usually one has so many friends who are successful in fortune in one way or another that a jealous disposition can make one uncomfortable most of the time. Jealous persons are in a chronic state of irritation.

The best thing tips the scales enough to make them miserable. How much more you would get out of life if you could be glad that the one of that has been favorably noticed!

But no, you must always make an unhappy comparison.

You cannot get full enjoyment
